WE NOMINATE

the hundreds upon hundreds of Princetonians who in this Holiday Season have opened their hearts to others in contributing a record - breaking total of more than $3,500 to the Twelfth Annual Town Topics Christmas Appeal. On the threshold of a New Year, in a sputnik - conscious world wrestling with fears and doubts, it is re-assuring to know that Princetonians in the space of 12 years have now devoted some $28,000 to caring for their own at Christmas. For their thoughtful generosity; for thinking twice of their community's "Forgotten Few;" for refusing to permit youngsters to remain behind the "Iron Curtain" of despair where tomorrow can be just one more long day; these wonderful, wonderful neighbors of ours are our nominees for Princeton's

LOOKING AHEAD

"Go" Year or "No" Year? Adhering to tradition, in traditionbound Princeton, governing bodies of the community's two municipalities will hold their usual reorganization meetings in the customary order this week. Borough Council and admirers will gather at high noon Thursday in Borough Hall, while Township Committee and its well-wishers will get-together at 5:15 Friday in Township Hall.

That's about where the "usual ness" of the proceedings will terminate. For both municipalities, which may one day consolidate in accordance with the hopeful thinking of many citizens in each area, have a number of separate and significant matters to handle in the New Year. In truth, 1959 may well shape up as a "go" year—or a "no" year—in each.

Considerable speculation concerning the man who will try to see that "go" defeats "no" in the Township was resolved following a quick Committee huddle Monday afternoon. At that long-awaited time, the city fathers emerged from executive chambers to announce they have selected R. Kennth Fairman to serve as mayor for the next 12 months. A one-year veteran of the Committee, the Princeton University athletic director indicated he is "ready and willing" to accept the assignment as soon as he has been formally chosen come Friday.

On hand for the decisive moment Monday was William W. Marvel, Democratic Committeeman-to-be who will reduce the group's GOP margin to 4-1 when he takes over the seat being vacated by Mayor Charles A. Hurford, not a candidate in '58. Friday's installation ceremony will mark Mr. Marvel's first official session, though he has attended many as an observer—and, on the basis of his successful campaign, is expected to fight hard for Township acquisition of Community Gardens.

MAYOR-SELECT: Chosen by his Township Committee colleagues to serve as Township mayor in 1959, R. Kenneth Fairman has agreed to take office when the committee reorganizes Friday.

Mayor-select Fairman and his cohorts (Messrs. Campbell, Mount, Smoyer, Marvel) have stressed already that their No. 1 project for the year ahead will be proper completion—and activation—of the Township's "master plan." All loose ends of the program are supposed to be tied together by mid-year, so the Committee will still have six months in which to make it click.

Judging from Mr. Fairman's comments at Monday's year-end clean-up meeting (see story, page 3), another project his group will push in '59 is construction of Terhune Road from Harrison Street to Snowden Lane. And, of course, the Committee will continue its efforts for the crucial By-Pass (Route 206A) at the east end of Carnegie Lake.

Democrats in Control. Though Mayor Raymond F. Male's tie-breaking vote was never required in '58, the Democrats dominated Borough Council (4-3) for the first time in more than 20 years. In '59, no party-caused deadlocks will be possible, for the Democrats have gained solid control (5-2), what with Dan D. Coyle winning re-election and John B. Redding replacing three-and-a half-year veteran Harry A. Farr, not a candidate in '58.

The Democrats will have their hands full and, as admitted at Monday evening's final Council meeting of the year (see story, page 3), Urban Renewal will remain No. 1 on their "problem" list. Despite opposition, Council—GOP members included — has committed itself wholeheartedly to the Urban Renewal plan, and no doubt will seek its earliest realization.

Council has hired a pair of outside "experts"—a couple of determined Irishmen named McHugh and McNamara—who will report soon, and attempt to see "go" prevail over "no" in the Borough. Mr. McHugh's planning advice clarify Urban Renewal and other long-range municipal planning, while Mr. McNamara's much-anticipated police report is expected to revamp that Borough department — and, in Mayor Male's words, "serve as an important contribution of the present administration."

The Borough mayor has hinted several other pet projects for '59, which may find their way into his annual message Thursday afternoon. He may mention the fact that "more than a few large concerns" have shown sincere interest very recently in locating in the Borough—meaning unexpected ratables—and he may begin talk about a new municipal building to replace outmoded Borough Hall, if he can safely predict the aforementioned ratables in return.

What with final acquisition and renovation of the Public Service parking yard, parking headaches have subsided — leaving traffic pains to plague city fathers and

Check Stubs Answer These Questions:

To whom paid?... For what?... When?... How Much?

Some people think the best reason for having a Checking Account is the way the check stubs keep a record of every cent paid out. They know, too, that paying by check saves time and steps, and that the record on the check stub discourages over-spending.

citizen motorists alike. If Urban Renewal is achieved, the parallel artery to Nassau Street will help a great deal, but even more aid will be needed. Accordingly, Borough Engineer Riker, with the assistance of outside "experts", has begun a detailed survey of Nassau, now accommodating 15,000 cars per day between Washington Road and University Place.

Looking ahead, to a day when Nassau should be able to handle 850 autos in each direction in tolerable fashion, Mr. Riker and his aides have come up with these ideas: (1) No parking on either side of Nassau between 4 and 6 p.m.; (2) A University Place exit for the Mercer-University parking yard; (3) Two truck loading zones on the north side of Nassau; (4) No taxi stand on the south side of Nassau.

LOOKING BACK

Memories. Looking back, for the sake of poor memories and for some remarkable ones, 1958 was memorable . . . it was the year the Borough tax rate went down four points and the Township's rate held steady . . . reassessment became almost as dead an issue as the Brooklyn Dodgers . . . Princeton bought it had a Big Snow at the end of February, complete with cold and wind and followed by rain, until the first day of spring, when it experienced the most powerful and power-less storm of the 20th century . . . Snowden Lane got widened, Valley Road got sidewalks and the Washington-College intersection got a traffic light.

1958 was a moving-forward year for PBAs, the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association promoting a wonderful Princeton Youth Program and the Princeton Business Association promoting two well-organized sales and a still-debatable meter program for Friday nights . . . it was the year commuters got a chance to spend an extra quarter each day parking at the Junction, historians got a chance to argue the fate of the Mercer Portico and residents living near Kingston Trap Rock's quarry got blasted . . . the Pontiac agency followed Buck's exodus and the "Pink Elephant" thought about following the Ivy Inn's arrival . . . hunters were allowed in Princeton Township, and they behaved.

Growth. "Recession" was the nastiest word of the year and, though it may have delayed some major plants' plans to establish here, it failed to stunt Princeton's healthy growth . . . work on the $1,845,000 Model C. Sleiferator and the $1,000,000 Columbian Carbon Company, both in the Plainsboro neighborhood, was launched . . . Western Electric, Educational Testing Service and Opinion Research Corporation moved into new Princeton homes . . . both banks reported record totals . . . the YMCA-YWCA dedicated its handsome new building . . . two enterprising pharmacists purchased The Thorne Pharmacy, a third opened The Nassau Pharmacy . . . with Princeton becoming more and more of a "convention town," the Nassau Tavern announced major expansion plans and the Princeton Inn earned the right to sell liquor to conventioners on Sundays . . . a pair of landmarks, Farr Hardware and Renwick's, were renovated . . . RCA's Astro-Electronic Products Division gave that company new honors and ASCOP got its "second wind" with their respective contributions to America's "talking" Atlas.

Education. Record budgets of $1,292,334 for Borough schools and $949,534 for Township schools reflected the value placed on these two fine systems by Princeton's citizenry . . . Princeton High experienced trouble when several students carried weapons to school and the Township experienced trouble in its efforts to build a new elementary schools, but the former incident was soon forgotten and the latter situation was being solved satisfactorily at year's end . . . Princeton University launched President Goheen's second year successfully as such "good publicity" hijinks as the driver-with-hansom succeeded the "Bubbles" low-jink . . . speaking of presidents, Westminster got a new one and the Seminary signed a new one for spring of '59 . . . University alumni started soliciting for a "suitable" Caldwell Memorial . . . and Miss Fine's and Princeton Country Day School announced plans for their eventual removal to a new, combined plant on The Great Road.

Religion. Spiritually, Princeton made tremendous advances in 1958 . . . the Calvary Baptists built a new church and received a new minister . . . the Unitarians dedicated and moved into their symbolic new structure . . . the new Jewish Center became an integral part of the Princeton scene . . . the Methodists' neared completion of their $100,000 wing and a new Gospel Tabernacle was half-finished by parishoners on North Harrison Street . . . Trinity Church conducted an inspiring $500,000-plus drive for its planned All Saints Chapel off Snowden Lane . . . and Father Hugh Halton left Princeton, Princeton University and controversy behind him.

Politics. Mayor Male became the Borough's first Democratic leader in a decade, while Mayor Hurford became the Township's third Republican leader in three years . . . Governor Meyner put Princeton in the national political spotlight for the first time since Woodrow Wilson's era . . . ex-Conservation Commissioner Joseph McLean of Princeton caused quite a stir during the State Senatorial primary, made an important highlight of the political year as a result of Princetonian H. Alexander Smith's decision not to run for re-election . . . the Democratic tread prevailed in Princeton Borough and Township as well as the State and Nation . . . and the New Jersey GOP finally decided the best thing to do to stop

FATAL ACCIDENT TUESDAY

Hopewell Girl Killed. With less than 48 hours left in 1958, Princeton's first fatal automobile accident of the year took the life of a young woman early Tuesday morning.

The Washington Road accident claimed Miss Irene Carter, 19, of 75 Columbia Avenue, Hopewell, as its victim. She was pronounced dead at the scene of the crash, which took place shortly after 1 a.m. as the car was proceeding north after having crossed the bridge over Carnegie Lake.

Ernest Anderson, 21, 40 Bond Street, Trenton, was Miss Carter's companion, but Township Police were unable to say immediately which one of them was behind the wheel. Mr. Anderson is in Princeton Hospital suffering from head and possible internal injuries, but his condition was listed as satisfactory.

Sergeant Lester Anderson and Patrolman Anthony Diaforli said that the car had struck and demolished a Public Service pole but could not learn immediately how the driver had lost control. The wreckage had to be pried away from the pole before the pair in the car could be removed.

Only one accident involving injury to a motorist occurred here, during Christmas week. Township officers reported that, on December 24 at 3:35 p.m., a car driven by Mrs. Rebecca M. Bull, 42, of 61 Cleveland Lane, was struck from behind on Washington Road by an auto operated by Clifford W. Shewan, 36, of 263 Mt. Lucas Road. Mrs. Bull, who suffered minor bruises, said she should have moved faster in turning into Lake Road, while Mr. Shewan said he did not see the other vehicle as he came over Carnegie Lake bridge heading north.

LOCATION SOUGHT

For Public Housing. While Monday evening's session of Mayor and Council was called for the express purpose of holding public hearings on two comprehensive measures, the Borough's first Fire Prevention Code and amendments to the five-year old ordinance governing dwellings "unfit for human habitation," Urban Renewal and the location of low-rent housing for those displaced by Urban Renewal once again held the center of the Borough stage.

A turn-out of nearly 100 persons, including a sprinkling of Township residents, patiently sat through the two at-times technical public hearings and then devoted some 45 minutes to meaningful discussion of the significance of Urban Renewal. The emphasis was upon upcoming "deadlines for decisions," possible routes of action for the Housing Authority and Council, and the importance of "sound public relations" in such an undertaking.

Consideration of Urban Renewal, particularly possible sites for 14-16 publicly financed, low-rent units, was triggered by a petition signed by 160 residents of the Borough's northeast corner (Harrison Street, Hornor Lane, Tee-Ar Place, Ewing Street and other streets in the area), who strongly object to any proposed low-cost housing in their neighborhood.

Among the reasons advanced for opposing a possibility broached early this month at the Planning Board's public hearing on "blight" in the projected Urban Renewal Area were the present one-family nature of the neighborhood, the reliance homeowners have placed in existing zoning and planning ordinances and "the most inequitable use" of public funds to which taxpayers have contributed either directly or indirectly.

"Public Relations". The following points came to light during the ensuing discussion:

● Dr. Harry W. Hazard, executive director of the Housing Authority, reported that Federal authorities are presently pondering the economic feasibility of building 14 units of public housing on the proposed "scattered sites" in the John-Witherspoon Area.

● In response to queries from the floor and from Mayor Male, Dr. Hazard conjectured that within the next two months critical decisions will have to be made on the location of public housing for families displaced by Urban Renewal, the possible construction of additional public units already allocated to Princeton by federal authorities and the final Urban Renewal Plan.

● Mayor Male, Councilman Lester, Hazard and interested observers agreed that every possible idea bearing upon Urban Renewal must be carefully examined, with the first-named stressing "we are facing tough decisions in which the community must participate."

● In "seconding" the need for positive public relations, a point made previously by three persons from the floor, Straughan L. Getler, minister of the Unitarian Church and speaking as chairman of the Princeton Community Relations Group, offered the opinion that there can be "no good results without good methods."

PUBLIC HEARINGS

Occupancy Standards. The duties and responsibilities of both the owners and tenants of any dwelling within the Borough of Princeton are spelled out in the unanimously passed amendments to the "Ordinance Providing for the Repair, Closing, or Demolition of Dwellings Unfit for Human Habitation."

The only expressed opposition to the amendments, which add teeth to the 1953 ordinance that created the long non-existent five-member Housing Rehabilitation Advisory Committee, came from Charles R. Sperling, 20-year Borough employee and Princeton attorney. Mr. Sperling lauded the aims of the amendments but requested a delay in enforcement from one to three years.

Fire Code. This far-reaching measure, recommended and largely prepared by the National Board of Fire Underwriters and warmly endorsed by Fire Chief Joseph J. Stemmle and the Fire Department's Board of Engineers, was also unanimously passed following protracted discussion of certain technical aspects and the membership of the newly established Bureau of Fire Prevention.

In placing the stringent code "on the books," the outgoing Council recommended to its succeeding body (five of whose members will be holdovers from the expiring year) broadening the base of the Bureau of Fire Prevention to include three appointees by Mayor and Council as well as three active former Chiefs of the Fire Department and the supervisory current Chief.

Mayor Male, following the passage, expressed his pleasure that the Fire Code had been enacted as the climax of th "outstanding year of service given by Chief Stemmle."

MAYOR STEPS DOWN

Last Hurford-Led Meeting. Expressing his gratitude for their cooperation to his fellow Township Committee members, the staff of Township Hall and members of the press, Charles A. Hurford concluded his single year as mayor of Princeton's perimeter municipality at a special Committee session Monday afternoon. His parting comment: "It really was good experience. I enjoyed it very much."

Committeeman James G. Campbell Jr., one of Mr. Hurford's Republican colleagues, thanked the outgoing mayor — in behalf of the Committee — for his leadership endeavors throughout 1958. In a spontaneous statement, Joseph R. Nini, the Township's clerk, said, "This was one of the hardest-working Committees with which I have had the privilege to work. You certainly kept me stepping all year. It's a the trend was to appoint Princetonian Charles R. Erdman its State Committee chairman.

Tragedy. Four Princeton High teenagers were killed near Kingston in the worst single-car accident in this area's traffic history, prompting a group of aroused citizens to organize a Committee on Safe Teenage Driving which has earned statewide support . . . the trussed-up body of murdered A&P store manager Jacob J. Mayer of Trenton was pulled from the Delaware & Raritan nine months ago, an unsolved crime that ranks as one of the grisliest in Mercer County annals . . . an 18-year-old Princeton High graduate, Octavia Mae Carter, was shot to death in her Borough home by a boy friend, who now awaits a trial for the brutal slaying.

Sports. Dick Edmunds, the amazing University freshman who ran a quarter-mile in 47.4 seconds, stood out sports-wise in 1958, an otherwise undistinguished sports year in Princeton . . . the Tigers' basketball team improved (but only to 15-8) and their hockey team improved (but only to 8-11), while the Little Tigers' basketball team stayed about the same (9-9) . . . in baseball, Old Nassau had a poor season (8-12-1), while rejuvenated Princeton High posted a winning mark (6-5) . . . in football, both the University and PHS lost their league tilts, though the Orange and Black captured six of nine games and claimed Big Three laurels . . . Hun School celebrated '58 with a slow-but-steady sports upsurge.

good sign — and it's good for the community."

Before adjourning for the year, the Committee cleared up its financial books and other eleventh-hour items. Of primary importance, it transferred unexpended balances of $4,400.00 to next year's surplus fund — an action which reflected in-the-black governmental operation for 1958 and an amount which reflected "tight budgeting" by the 1958 Committee.

The Committeemen adopted an ordinance admitting Independence and Constitution Drives into the Township street system after Mr. Nini informed them that as-built drawings have been submitted, street sign standards have been installed, signs have been ordered and the Constitution Hill Development Company has posted a performance bond. In other action, the governing body adopted a resolution endorsing special emergency notes worth $1,750 for extension of the "master plan" and took under advisement a Trinity Church request that an ordinance be readied for construction of Terhune Road from Snowden Lane to the church's property north of Van Dyke Road.

'Kosh on New Year'sh Day
The weathersh fine!
—Hic Hic Hooray

Sounds as if Brother Hooray wouldn't care what the weather turned out to be, but chances are he's right on his prediction: "New Year'sh Day" is expected to be fair and cool.

Colder weather in general will return to Princeton for the first few days of 1959, the Man reported. Monday and Tuesday brought December's mildest temperatures, with readings in the mid '40's (after December 22 had seen the low for the month at 9.) Cloudy skies will follow the blue, he said, with even a chance of snow around Saturday.

MODERN ARCHITECTURE Adult School Offers Course. Nine lecturers, most of them practicing architects directly concerned with their subjects, will present illustrated lectures in a forthcoming course, "An Appraisal of Modern Architecture" which will be given during the Princeton Adult School's winter term, starting January 15. (For additional information on the curriculum, see pages 12-13.)

The lectures will analyze contemporary design, its physical and psychological functions, the vision of the designer and the merit of structures under consideration.

Registration for the winter term will be held at the High School on January 6, 7 and 8 from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. and from 8 p.m. to 10 p.m.

The illustrated lectures will begin on January 15 with "The Reason for Modern Architecture" by Heath Licklider of the school of architecture, Princeton. In subsequent weeks, William W. Caudill, an architect with a nationwide practice in school architecture, will discuss the future of school design and Walter H. Kilham, whose firm designed Firestone Library, will describe American architecture abroad. He is currently at work on the American Embassy, Afghanistan.

Charles W. Moore, of Princeton's School of Architecture, will give two lectures: "The Contemporary American House" and "Modern Architecture in Japan." In the latter, he will discuss the analogy between ancient and modern Japanese architecture and the relation of both to American design.

Morris Ketchum, a pioneer in the development of shopping centers and the author of a book on the subject, will speak on "Street Furniture." The four final lectures will be devoted to contemporary architecture abroad. Paul Nelson, an American architect who practiced in France from 1918 to 1952, will speak on architecture in that country.

Robert W. McLaughlin, director of Princeton's school of architecture, will discuss the modern spirit in Latin America with particular emphasis on the University of Mexico, and Mario Salvadori, consulting engineer on the faculties of Columbia and Princeton, will consider the architecture of Italy. G.E. Kidder-Smith, architect and architectural photographer, will speak on modern architecture in Sweden.

SANTA ANSWERS

For 11th Year, Henry Schultz, Princeton's personal Santa Claus, wound up his season of good cheer at 6 on December 24, having brightened the Christmas season for over 400 children who gained Santa's private ear by calling WA 4-3375.

In addition to the firms already listed, the following establishments contributed to the fund given to the blind Santa Claus each year: Stuff 'N Nonsense, Artistic Hairdressers, The Rug Mart, King's Court, Radio Center, Wash-O-Mat, The Food Mart, Home Decor.

Also, The Hardware Corp., Bailey's, Pakman's, Al Ross Sinclair, Esquire Luncheonette, Kline's Esso, Skillman & Skillman, Helen Van Cleve, Reliable Furniture and Landau's.

JUNIORS JOIN SENIORS

Players Combine Forces. For the first time in the Community Players' quarter-century of dramatic activity, the Junior members (elementary school age) of the group will take part in a production staged by their elders. The occasion will be the forthcoming presentation of "Under Milkwood" by Dylan Thomas.

Director John Becker announced this week that a chorus of ten will be selected from the Junior Players for the drama set to open a six-night run at the Playmill on January 23. The young unit will sing but not dance, may occasionally perform the utilitarian chore of serving as a "curtain."

In the midst of completing the always-difficult task of casting the play, director Becker has plans for other innovations unknown to author Thomas. Although the performance will not actually be given "in the round," it will start in the middle of the Playmill audience and will occashionally dip into other dramatic liberties.

Two narrators (one male, one distaff) will frequently trace the course of events for the audience, while the play (written by Mr. Thomas as a long one-acter) will be presented here as a three-act vehicle. Production dates are three consecutive Fridays and Saturdays, beginning January 23 and ending February 7—another Players' precedent.

An internationally-known artist, Jacques Kupfermann, will design the single set for "Milkwood." A painter and an actor who likes to double as a guide for hunters in the forests of Maine, Mr. Kupfermann plans to make Princeton his home. Some of his work was on display at the Festival of Arts staged last October for the first time by Miss Fine's School.

"Milkwood" cast selections will be announced early in January. Rehearsals will start as soon as they have been completed.

CHILDREN'S SERIES SET

Four Programs Planned. Starting January 27 with "Heidi" and winding up May 7 with "Hansel and Gretel," the PTA of the Princeton Borough elemegtary schools will sponsor a series of four monthly productions as its 27th season of Children's Entertainments. Announcements concerning the popular program have been sent to parents of all elementary school youngsters in Princeton and the surrounding area.

The series, specially selected as suitable for children from grades one through eight, will be completed by "Hiawatha and the Magic Forest Bird" on February 24 and "Freddie and His Fiddle" on March 17. Except for "Hansel and Gretel," which will be presented by the Princeton Ballet Society under the direction of Audree Estey, the offerings are all plays written for juveniles and performed by adult members of well-known professional groups.

NEW YEAR, NEW LOOK: Yul Brynner (left), with ample hair, romps with Claire Bloom, Charles Boyer, E. G. Marshall and Henry Hull in "The Buccaneer," which greets 1959 at the Playhouse starting this Wednesday.

Season tickets for the series are priced at $5.50, $3.50 and $1.85. They can be obtained by sending check or money order to Mrs. Albert Austen, 10 Princeton Avenue, or by telephoning her at WA 1-5772 between 9:20 and 11:30 a.m. Monday through Friday. Season tickets are not sold after the first performance.

Most desirable locations are usually sold on a season basis, so persons wanting good choice of seats should send in reservations as soon as possible. Single seats are priced at $1.50, 95 cents and 50 cents and can be purchased anytime prior to each performance. All programs will begin at 3:30 at McCarter Theatre.

THE PLAYHOUSE

The Buccaneer (December 31-January 6), supervised by spectacle expert Cecil B. DeMille, contains all the ingredients of a great motion picture and, though "great" may be too strong a tag, it is a fine, action-filled historical film. It deals with America at the time of the crucial War of 1812—in typical DeMille fashion. Produced by Henry Wilcoxon and directed by Anthony Quinn, a pair of former spectacle participants, "The Buccaneer" presents breathtaking, panoramic scenes and dramatic entanglements on a grand scale. It climaxes with the

PARTY-TIRED
CLOTHES
Helpful hints for keeping your wardrobe in Tip-Top form during the holiday entertaining season

- After each party, let clothes air out at least overnight. Then inspect for food spots, beverage splashes, perspiration or other soil.
- If okay, a little shaking or even brushing won't hurt to smooth out minor creases. Hang in closet on wide (not wire) hangers protected by garment bags . . . and don't crowd.
- Have soiled or badly crumpled things reconditioned immediately. For this purpose nothing quite equals our Sanitone Dry Cleaning Service. So call us without delay.

blazing Battle of New Orleans.

Yul Brynner, complete with hair atop his usually bald head and a mustache on his usually clean-shaven face, performs in an exciting manner as Jean Lafitte, the pirate king, while Charles Boyer is excellent as the philosophic, humorous Dominique You. Charlton Heston is well-cast as Andrew Jackson and Claire Bloom shines in an off-beat role for her, as the spitfire pirate girl who loved and hated Lafitte. For those who used to enjoy the best efforts of Errol Flynn and Tyrone Power, "The Buccaneer" is one of the finest swash-bucklers to spring out of the seven seas in a long spell.

Gigi (January 7-13), from Colette's saucy French novel, is a smart, sophisticated, adult comedy, filmed in beautifully elaborate Paris settings in CinemaScope and color. Produced by Cecil Beaton and directed by Vincente Minelli, "Gigi" keeps bubbling for two hours, thanks in no small part to its bright and amiable book and its lush and lovely costumes. The pace is just right for a completely delightful filmusical.

Of course, the music is vitally important, too, and, in this case, the 10 new tunes by Alan Jay Lerner and Fred Lowe of "My Fair Lady" eminence — comprise a lilting, memorable score. The cast is a good one for this particular MGM vehicle. Leslie Caron doing nicely in the title role and receiving some experienced support from the likes of Louis Jourdan, Maurice Chevalier, Hermoine Gingold and Isabel Jeans.

THE GARDEN

From the Earth to the Moon (December 31) is an adaptation of Jules Verne's novel which probably has the late master of suspense turning over in his grave. Set in the United States in the 1860s, it is an elaborate, overdone and distorted version of the original story which is too wordy and much less active than the title implies. Joseph Cotten, George Sanders and Debra Paget are adequate in their scientific roles, vying for a terrible exclusive called "Power X," but there is too much ineffective talk about the moral uses of man's scientific knowledge and power.

Mardi Gras (January 1-3) looks about as phony as the confetti they throw around at such events in New Orleans, but, then, some moviegoers may enjoy this type of cinematic-hellery. It's strictly a routine musical comedy you know, the one concerning the student soldier who meets a movie starlet, dates her with considerable difficulty and falls in love with her without any trouble whatsoever. Pat Boone is the hero, which may appeal to lands of teenagers, yet, he, Christine Carere, Tommy Sands and Sheree North don't seem to have their hearts in all the youthful folderol and romantic goo. Only Gary Crosby, son of the perennial colleginn, gives it the old college try, and quite well at that.

Dreaming Lips (January 5 and 6), in German with English titles, refer to the pair used effectively — in speaking lines and rendering kisses—by Maria Schell, the distinguished German actress who owns a number of international prizes for top-flight performances. Not much is known on this side of the Atlantic about "Dreaming Lips," though Maria is reported to have contributed another prize-winning portrayal and her co-star is O.W. Fisher, an able Continental actor.

Liane, Jungle Goddess (January 7-13), in German with English dubbed in, unveils Marlon Michael, billed as Germany's answer to Brigitte Bardot. Miss Michael makes mighty eye-catching foreground materiel for the African location backgrounds, filmed in enchanting Eastman Color, but the story is a little hard to take. Marlon is cast as a jungle queen ruling a huge domain with the blessing and guidance of a primitive hunting and warring tribe. Lean, blonde Hardy Kruger, orchid-seeking in Darkest Africa, gets himself captured by the tribe, only to be saved by you-know-who. In return, the Hardy boy helps unmask the murderer of Marion's father—a rich ship-builder no less—and Marion eases the white man's burden by financing another floral fling.

IT'S NEW To Us

RING IN THE NEW

Shops A-Popping. In the last, busy weeks before Christmas shopping began in earnest, two new shops opened in Princeton and we now take you on our hundred-dollar tour of Nassau Pharmacy and the expanded Bellows', in case you have, in some unlikely fashion, missed either of them.

On the corner of Moore and Nassau stands the new and bigger Bellows, under its cheerful red awning. The store now occupies the whole building on that northwest corner, having moved in when the "Y" and the Children's Shop moved out. The new Bellows is no longer just an infants' and children's shop, of course; in its doubled space it now provides for the grandmother who has gone in to buy a christening robe, for the mother who wants a new pair of Bermudas, for the 16-year-old girl who is so hard to fit and for the five-year-old who has just dropped in to try on his new Eton jacket.

The new section has pale sage grey walls, warm walnut paneling here and there, black benches, a pine secretary that shows off a saucy collection of hats (sports, cocktail and just hats) and a sumptuous little preening room with mirrors, wall-to-wall white shag rugs and ruby velvet cushions in the white French chairs.

What's to buy? Well, anybody who wears size 18 or 20 will be interested in either a navy crepe belted skillfully with matching grosgrain or a nubbed cotton with wide collar and youthful bow. Color is teal blue. Prices in this size range are $22.95 and $29.95, approximately. There's a bright poppy red silk print, too, for grandmothers who eschew navy.

It's harder to be a size five than it is to be a grandmother, and Bellows is sympathetic. There's a darkly striped Joseph's-coat of a shirtwaist dress and a bouncy little Lanz in this two-bit size range.

Shoes are spool-heeled flats from the lasts of Capezio and Pappagallo; formals are violet and pink cotton candy or cafe espresso trimmed with ecru lace and elan; coats are 100% cashmere, ilium lined, for $88.95 or tough little car coats, raccoon rounding out the collar; lingerie is a chiffon bed-jacket overlaid with wool lace or a flannel nightgown; blouses are Ship 'n Shore or a high-style overblouse in greyed olive green with the imprint of brown cane seating on its front.

There's a new jewelry counter with sports watches and dress watches, links that are mother-of-pearl palettes with bright paint splashes, and all kinds of soft leather pouch handbags, evening bags, gloves and accessories.

Behind the Counter. It's the prescription department that means the most to the new owner of Nassau Pharmacy at 80 Nassau. With another pharmacist and a young apprentice, this experienced mortar-and-pestle man fills your prescriptions and provides you with drugs from a modern and well-stocked larder.

There is, in the prescription department, a fascinating cupboard consisting of four sliding doors, one behind the other, about a foot apart. Each "door" is actually a panel of shelves, just deep enough to hold standard pharmaceutical bottles.

It's an ingenious and economical use of space. Most important, the prescription has a little refrigerator for vitamins, insulin and other medical supplies that need to keep cool, including some low-cholesterol margerine for people with diet problems.

The new pharmacy has been painted light coral pink and its fluorescent light tubes have been concealed within coral "egg-crate" fixtures so that the overall light is warm and pleasing rather than cool.

Under the "egg-crates" are shelves of baby goods that include bottle sterilizers, diaper diners, a Disneyland night-light, cereals, formula needs and—safety pins.

Roger & Gallet and Marly are the cosmetic houses represented. The fine old French house pro-

Out Of Pocket

It's a trim, sharply creased bit of white linen—er, muslin—and it edges out of the pocket of that suit jacket that you brought back from University Cleaners.

At first, you say, or your husband says, "Hey, must have left a handkerchief in the pocket." But such is not the case. The "handkerchief" has been put there by University Cleaners just to make your suit look curried and sleek, and it isn't a handkerchief at all, it's a double fold of muslin stitched to a card that says "thank you for your patronage."

Incidentally, you may be alarmed when you see that white muslin and you may wonder whether the U. Cleaners has been shredding your old sheets. Not a bit. The cards come that way from the manufacturer.

Report from THE MAYOR

At Year End. With this weekly report, the Mayor closes the book on a very full year of activity at Borough Hall. As the holidays approached, there was a great deal of business to be done, with preparations for the organization meeting of the Council on January 1, and the drafting of the customary annual message of the Mayor to the Council and to the citizens of the Borough.

Last week, the Mayor and Police Sergeant Anderson were the only ones in Borough Hall in the late evening when a group of carolers strolled up the walk and into the building. The strains of "Adeste Fidelis" were punctuated at one point by a teenage girl who exclaimed "Oh! There's the Mayor!" No Mayor or police officer ever had a better concert.

One Thousand Visitors. At last week's "Tell it to the Mayor!" session, a rather significant milestone was passed. Just before 9 p.m., the one-thousandth visitor walked through the door to talk things over.

The Mayor intends to send this visitor a personal gift — a book about Princeton — to mark the fact that so many citizens of Princeton have taken the time to drop by and share their views with the Mayor. Certainly this has been a great help to us in shaping Borough policy and in serving the people of the community.

For a Second Year. This week's informal Open House session will be held on Friday, January 2, from 7 to 10 p.m. at Borough Hall. No appointment is ever necessary. If you cannot come to Borough Hall, you can talk with the Mayor by telephone at WAlnut 4-3118.

A Reception. The public is invited to attend the annual organization meeting of Mayor and Council at noon on New Year's Day. This brief session will be followed by an informal reception in Borough Hall for Borough officials, staff and any citizens who are interested in attending.

The reception is being planned by the Mayor's wife in honor of Councilman Coyle who begins his second term; Councilman Redding who takes the oath of office for the first time; Councilman Farr who is retiring after three years of outstanding service; and Borough Collector-Treasurer Kerr who is retiring after eleven years of faithful service in that post. We all hope that many residents of the community will turn out to honor these distinguished public servants.

A Message. For the second time it becomes this Mayor's privilege to prepare the traditional annual message. This is a custom which presents an opportunity for stock-taking — for a brief backward glance at the year behind us, for an evaluation of the problems that face us, and for a look ahead at the needs and prospects of the coming year.

For the Mayor it affords a reminder of the great privilege it has been to serve as Mayor of this great town. Citizen interest in the business of local government seems to be steadily growing and the year 1959 will provide many opportunities for us all to work together in the best interest of the community. To everyone the Mayor extends greetings and best wishes for the new year.

vides cologne and after-shave lotion and, of course, its famous soaps. Marly gives you 240 foam baths for 90c. Or you can buy a glass apothecary jar of bubble bath for a bit more and have the jar after you're clean.

Casro's Thermal Massager (looks just like a square cushion) is designed for tired feet, insomnia, backache and loose (or tight) muscles. It will help them all.

Up and Away! With Christmas tossed away like an old gift-wrapping, it's time to think about going south and Bill Atkinson, who took you to England this fall with his "British Accent" collection, now whisks you off to—well, where do you want to go? —with his "Watercolor Studies."

This group of travel and resort clothes, now at Mary Chapin's, 217 Nassau, is built around linen, corduroy and fine cotton. Its colors are sea blue, green water, sucker, sunset and bronze. Wait'll you see those foam shorts.

The cut is for artists, and there's a startling shirt in a white cotton fabric that looks like a great big half-inch wide seersucker. The shirt has long, full sleeves and a back yoke that forms a very deep "U". This same interesting white fabric has also been used in a classic shirt dress with a bronze and sunset belt (you know Atkinson and his colors: it's really olive and persimmon).

Narrow sea-blue and white stripes line up on a straight skirt and its matching shirt. Then there's a pair of narrow slacks and some shorts (Bermudas) in green, blue, sunset or bronze linen. With those white—pardon, foam—corduroy shorts you'd better have a matching skirt, cut easy with a deep front kick pleat, and a pair of beach-comber slacks. With any of these, wear a canvas overshirt with roll-up sleeves. Come in blue, green and purple stripes (wide and random) or sunset and bronze.

To go near the water, or even in, Mr. Atkinson provides a spare cut bathing suit with boy shorts and narrow straps. It's made of something they call paisley, but it's really tiny orange commas on a cream ground.

The same pleasing monotone print appears in a sheath dress whose bateau neck is piped in solid color. (You may have this dress in blue if you prefer the sea to the sunset. A blousy jacket, wide neck, goes over it all.)

For cool evenings, choose a reefer, collarless and easy in cut, woven of linen and native cloth in combinations of sunset, foam and bronze. Piped in solid, all the way down front.

Our favorite in this bon voyage collection is a jaunty beach-comber's hat, with a crown of that white puckered cotton, wide streamers of the same to tie under your chin, and a spanky little straw brim to shade you from the sun you went south to find.

Schools Found "Safe"

Prompted by the recent, tragic school fire in Chicago and the quickly-extinguished Thanksgiving blaze at Princeton High, leaders of Princeton's Volunteer Fire Department have conducted and completed a thorough inspection of local schools. Chief Joseph J. Stemmle said he and his aides checked all five public schools in Princeton Borough and Township, plus Miss Fine's School and the First Presbyterian Church.

"We found nothing radically wrong," the chief commented this week, following the final phases of the inspection. Of primary concern, "exit doors were okay. Some minor details were noted—such as more fire extinguishers needed in certain places, trash clean-ups needed and metal trash containers needed instead of cardboard—and these were remedied." Mr. Stemmle called all the facilities "safe."

Chief Stemmle stressed that the firemen checked the seven installations by specific invitation. In this connection, Chester R. Stroup, assistant superintendent of Borough schools, stressed that only janitors toured the buildings with the inspectors—to insure the completeness of the important investigations.

NEW LAW FIRM FORMED

French and Cook Dissolved. Thomas P. Cook, former member of the law firm of French and Cook, and Robert S. Payne, a former associate in the same firm, have formed a partnership for the general practice of law, with offices at 10 Nassau Street. The name of the new firm is Cook and Payne, with the old partnership of French and Cook dissolved.

A lawyer here for the past eight years, Mr. Cook graduated from Princeton University in 1932 and took his law degree from the University of Virginia. He is a member of the bar in New Jersey and New York, and served as Deputy Attorney General of New Jersey. In that capacity, he was counsel to the State Department of Education and the Division of Water Policy and Supply.

Mr. Cook is the author of legal articles on planning, zoning and surface water problems. Among his civic activities, he has been campaign chairman and president of the United Community Fund.

Mr. Payne also received his law degree from the University of Virginia after graduating from the University of Connecticut in 1950. A member of the New Jersey and Virginia bars, he was associated with French and Cook since 1958. He has also been a part-time lecturer in economics at Rutgers. A Kendall Park resident, Mr. Payne is a member of the civic organization's finance committee.

Yule Business: Like Proverbial Elevator

Depending on where you stand, Christmas business in Princeton was a little better than last year, or a little worse. Some merchants said customers, without New York newspaper ads to check, did a lot of shopping here they might otherwise have done in New York. Others said the Borough's traffic conditions encouraged shoppers to try elsewhere.

One of the town's long-established pharmacies reported topping all previous records in Christmas sales. "People actually shopped early this year," was the report in this store. "Our volume began to pick up sooner than it ever had before, and while it topped anything we had experienced previously, it meant that the last day or so was not completely hectic."

A leading Nassau Street dress shop owner commented enthusiastically, "No complaints! Business was very good; in fact, up from 1957." Two downtown novelty stores, one specializing in foods and the other in off-beat items, announced that "business was good, as always at Christmas time." Proprietors at both admitted they ran out of a number of their top products a week or more before December 25.

From the co-owner of an off-Nassau toy store came this report: "We were way under last year. Actually, business was slow until last Saturday." A spokesman for several Shopping Center businesses said the anticipated big rush occurred the final few days before Christmas, but "we certainly didn't set the world on fire before then."

Edward A. Clohossey, president of the Princeton Business Association, had no comment to make regarding the effect of metered street parking (Friday evenings) on pre-Christmas shopping, noting that he will be polling the association's membership soon to determine reaction. He said he will attempt to evaluate the plan's worth and, if it isn't the right one for the PBA, will go to work on a substitute.

Like the proverbial elevator, Yule business in Princeton apparently went up and down. However, two merchants, one a leading shoe dealer, the other a leading jeweler, probably came closest to majority thinking—and figures—on the subject: "About the same as last year."

YOUNG DEVELOPMENT SOLD

Hercules Powder Buys Labs. Young Development Laboratories of Rocky Hill, producers of glass fiber reinforced plastic materials, has been purchased by the Hercules Powder Co. The two companies have been working together for almost 10 years, using the special plastics for rocket motors for solid propellants.

John M. Martin, General Manager of Hercules Explosives Department, noted that his company is also interested in applications other than rocket engines for the strong plastics. "This new structural material, as light as magnesium, as strong as alloy steel, with high impact strength and electrically nonconducting, has potential for a wide range of industrial uses," he explained.

The Rocky Hill plant will be operated as the Young Development division of Hercules Powder Co., with Richard E. Young, president of the laboratories, remaining as director of the new division. Mr. Young said that affiliation with the larger firm will permit accelerated research and development and expanded production.

Reinforced plastic produced by Young Development has already been used for rocket motor cases, nozzles, tail fins and stabilizers. Its main advantage is the highest strength-to-weight ratio of known materials, with the light casing allowing more thrust per pound for the complete unit.

NEW OFFICERS APPOINTED

To Head Designed For Living. A new president and vice-president have been appointed to head Designed For Living, Inc., of Princeton and Hanover, J. Wendell Parr has been named president of the custom home building firm, and James C. Gallagher will serve as vice-president.

Mr. Parr, executive vice-president of Designed For Living since 1954, replaces Donald Nestor, who has retired. Mr. Gallagher was formerly an account executive executive with the Philadelphia advertising firm of Al Paul Lefton Co.

DOBSON JOINS ORC

Specialist in Communication. William A. Dobson, a specialist in communication within a business organization, has joined the staff of Opinion Research Corporation as research executive, Ha was a founder and vice-president of Savage-Lewis, Inc., a Minneapolis advertising and communications firm.

His addition to the ORC staff will enable it to expand its research and consulting services in both employee and marketing communications, according to Joseph C. Bevis, ORC president. "We will now be in a position to extend our research and analytical techniques to determine just how information is flowing within a company, where dilution occurs, why it occurs, and what can be done about it," Mr. Bevis said.

Mr. Dobson and his wife, Helen, intend to move into their new house at 183 Edgerstoune Road this month. They are presently living on Pretty Brook Road with their two children, Linda, 6, and David, 4.

AREA LABS AID SCHOOLS

Scientific Equipment Donated. Research laboratories in the area have supplied equipment for science classes in Princeton schools this fall. The firms are working through the Princeton Area Science Education Committee, headed by O. Blumenfeld of American Cyanamid Company.

Materials distributed by the research organizations have ranged from test tubes on up to complicated equipment such as a projecting microscope, given either as gifts or on loan to the schools. Companies which have contributed equipment include American Cyanamid Co., Food Machinery and Chemical Corp. and Cities Service Research and Development Co.

The special committee was organized ten months ago to supplement science courses in Princeton schools. Besides supplying actual equipment, the group has provided research personnel from the member firms to speak on various scientific subjects.

HE BELONGS BEHIND BARS: Arthur Gerstl Jr., a teller at the First National Bank, doesn't usually make New Year's resolutions, but, now that he's a bank-trained man, he's planning to make one. For it, and a report on other New Year's views, see Question of the Week below. (Town Topics Photo by Hank Chachowski)

Question of the Week

Question: Do you make New Year's resolutions and, if so, how long do you usually keep them?
Location: Around town.

Miss Natalie Oriel, Belle Mead commercial artist with Gallup & Robinson: I used to make them, but I don't any more. Why don't I make any new ones? Because I always kept them, that's why.

Robert Appleton, Bordentown, analyst with Gallup & Robinson: I've never made one, and I know if I made one I wouldn't keep it.

Miss Martha Schmeiss, 42 Chestnut Street, editorial assistant, D. Van Nostrand Company: It's all according to the particular year. If I feel I need to make don't. And, if I make one, I really try to keep it. Right now I'm not sure if I need to make a '59 resolution or not—but I should know before the final witching hour.

Miss Marie Cegielski, New Brunswick, bookkeeper with D. Van Nostrand Company: Oh, yes! I make at least one every New Year—and I keep them, too! As a result, I now find that work is a pleasure, whatever I do is enjoyment and all men are beautiful.

Charles Mapes Jr., Hopewell, analyst with Gallup & Robinson: I've never made a New Year's resolution, but this year my wife thinks I should make a few. They shall be nameless.

Miss Shirley Glaser, Raritan, analyst with Gallup & Robinson: I stopped making New Year's resolutions a long time ago!

Mrs. Robert Irven, 66 Tee-Ar Place, housewife and registered nurse: As a rule, I don't make any. If I do, they usually don't stick. I try to start fresh each year, to be a better mother and wife. I can't remember making any last year or the year before —I'm too busy.

Arthur Gerstl Jr., Neshanic, teller at the First National Bank of Princeton: I don't normally make a practice of vowing New Year's resolutions, but I'm going to this year. I intend to build up my savings account—right here of course. It'll be my first resolution attempt in a long while, but I'll keep it—at least, I hope so.

Mrs. Henry Miller, 56 Harrison Street, housewife: I usually make my New Year's resolutions to myself, and manage to keep them for about two or three months—unless I forget completely! I think, if you can keep them six months, that's very good but I'm certainly not in that category.

Professor Eric Kahler, 1 Evelyn Place, visiting professor in German and comparative literature and author: I really don't make special resolutions for the New Year, but find I do throughout the year at no particular time. As for keeping them—I guess we're all human, and I don't think I'm strong enough to stick to my resolutions for too long.

Mrs. Frederick S. Gallagher, 31 Logan Drive, housewife: I don't make New Year's resolutions at all any more, because I found out a long time ago that I simply can't keep them for any respectable period of time.

Robert Tollander, the Princeton University Tiger and a guide for tours of the campus: Each year, I make the same resolution and each year I keep it. The resolution is that I will make New Year's resolutions.

Mrs Samuel McDowell, 9 Patton Avenue, housewife. I don't make negative resolutions, but only positive ones. In general, the ones I make are about running the household. I keep them as long as I am able to with two children and a cat around.

SMALL MAN: Artie Klein, 5-9, is a three-year member of Princeton varsity basketball team, ranking as a valuable back-court player averaging in double figures.

QUINTET HERE MONDAY

Ivy Opener Scheduled. Fresh from a three-game tour of Puerto Rico, Pennsylvania's basketball team will open Princeton's Ivy League schedule Monday at 8 in Dillon Gym. The Tigers will be favored over the Philadelphia quintet, since they trimmed the Quakers twice last season and the relative strength of the two teams is about the same this year.

The contest with Penn will be the first of five against Ivy opponents set for the Tigers during the fortnight of action prior to the annual mid-winter exam break. Yale and Brown will be here the following Friday and Saturday, while a trip to meet Columbia and Cornell is on tap for January 16 and 17. The Tigers will have to sweep their first four contests in Dillon Gym in order to go into the February portion of the Ivy race in a contending position.

All five Princeton starters (Carl and Herm Belz, Joe Burns, Jim Brangon and Art Klein) were averaging in double figures as the team went west for three post-Christmas games. For results of the first two, see page 15.)

HOCKEY TEAM TRAVELS

Tigers Head for Troy, N. Y. The annual Rensselaer Polytech hockey tournament at Troy, N. Y., beckons Princeton's winless hockey team this weekend. The Tigers have ost their first four games in intercollegiate competition and are hopeful of ending the series of defeats before they return home.

Their best chance is against Brown, the other Ivy entry in the R.E.I. affair. However, off comparative scores, victory over the Bruins won't be easy—the latter lost to Boston College, 3-2, in a sudden death overtime, whereas B.C. whipped the Tigers, 6-3.

The host team, R.P.I., and Michigan State are the other entries and both are figured to be more than Princeton can handle. The Tigers play one of their two home January games in Baker Rink next Thursday, January 8, when St. Lawrence will be in town and open their Ivy season against Brown at Providence two days later.

PHS RESOLUTION:

Score More Baskets. A modern-day basketball team which scores less than 40 points per game—even a high school team playing 32-minute games—very likely will find itself on the losing side of the ledger at season's end. That is the prospect realized this week by Princeton High's current club, with a 37.3 average in four encounters to date and, as a direct result, a 1-3 record.

Coach Tony Borzok's charges must score more baskets in the New Year if they are going to salvage any part of the 1958-59 campaign. A good indication of this "must" is the fact that the Little Tigers' opponents have averaged 47.5 points so far—including an unbelievable total of 21 by lacklustre Hightstown and a "slowed-down" total of 43 by Trenton High. Princeton's three setbacks have been by 15 or more markers each.

The Blue and White's only consistent point-producer hos been Tony Boccanfuso, who needed a 26-point effort against the Rams to keep his average at 15.5. Future foes undoubtedly will put their best defenders on Princeton's No. 1 player—unless fellow senior Bill Stryker and sophomore Jim Barbour can begin exploiting their scoring ability. Without one or both of these two to threaten with Boccanfuso, PHS will find it difficult to defeat any team.

If the Little Tigers are planning to break out of their less-than-40 shell at all, they should do so next week. They will meet Peddie School here at 7:30 next Wednesday and Hamilton High away next Friday evening (January 9). Like Princeton, both opponents will be coming back after the Christmas lay-off. Also like Princeton, neither team hos shown much stuff this year.

WE Congratulate

BETTY KLEIBER
Standout Bowler

A review this week of the records at Princeton Recreation Center shows clearly that housewife Betty Kleiber was the No. 1 league bowler during the opening half of the 1958-59 season. Among other notable feats, she scored the highest individual game by a member of the "weaker" sex, a 235, and the best distoff series in several years, a 563. Curiously, her two "highs" were posted on different occasions.

"This is by far my best season," Mrs. Kleiber observed, though the observation was somewhat unnecessary, since few women have approached her pin prowess in PRC annals. In addition to her individual marks, the '44 graduate of Princeton High School a good athlete at the time has maintained a 156 average in the Industrial League on Friday evenings and a 152 in the Princeton Women's Bowling League on Tuesdays. The former is the best in the Industrial loop.

Betty first became interested in kegling when Lillian Burrough, wife of PRC's owner and a fine performer herself, started recruiting new talent. She tried open bowling while perfecting her game, then switched to league competition in 1953. This is Betty's fifth competitive year, the 1954-55 season having been skipped for a more important assignment—the birth of the Kleibers' second child.

Back in action in the fall of 1955, Betty worked hard at the task of improving her bowling form, participlating in both distaff circuits. Her natural ability and sports enthusiasm helped a lot. As a result, she pleased her husband, a Nassau Servicé partner, whose entry always does well in the Women's Industrial League (second place the first half this time), and Town Topics, whose team she paced to another victory in the PWBL during the fall.

TOPICAL TOM WONDERS . . . if 1959 will be the "year of decision" for Community Gardens, the centrally located acreage north of Birch Avenue in Princeton Township which municipal leaders hope to obtain without cost for "community purposes." Purchased in 1941 by Princeton Community Parks Foundation, a group of prominent private citizens of both Township and Borough, part of the 49 acres was used during World War II for "victory gardens." Since that time, it has virtually gone to waste, except for a good-size playground used for summer activities. Representatives of the Foundation and the Township have been conferring in recent months regarding the property's future, and the Township Committee has noted these discussions with guarded optimism.

TIGERS LOSE TV GAME

Blow 10-Point Lead. For the first 15 minutes of the basketball game at Columbus, O., Saturday afternoon (televised throughout the New York area), Princeton had Ohio State's big quintet thoroughly in control. The visiting Ivy Leaguers were taking complete advantage of the Buckeyes' man-to-man defense, shaking one player after another down the alley for quick layups.

With five minutes left in the first half, Princeton had a 28-to-18 lead. If the Tigers had slowed the pace down at that juncture, a good-sized upset might have been accomplished.

However, instead of a series of carefully-planned plays, one random, often hurried, shot followed another. As they bounced away from the basket, Ohio State rebounding improved markedly and the tide was quick to turn.

The home team erased its deficit with 17 straight points, taking a 37-34 margin at the intermission. Princeton came back to lead twice in the first two minutes after action resumed but thereafter could not stay with the taller opposition.

The O.S.U. margin increased steadily to a dozen and then 17 points before both coaches substituted toward the end. Princeton pared the final difference to a respectable nine for a 75-86 final, but chances for victory had gone when the early lead was lost with the haywire shooting that marked the closing minutes of the first half.

Carl Belz gave his best performance in two years with a 26-point effort, pacing both teams. Jim Brangan hit for 17, but the other three starters (Herm Belz, Art Klein, Joe Burns) were visibly cold after a nine-day Christmas layoff. Ohio State's big edge in rebounding — 62 to 35 — told much of the story.

SECOND LOSS TO BIG TEN

Michigan 71-58 Victor. Running behind all the way, the Tiger basketball team dropped the second game on its mid-West trip on Monday when it bowed to Michigan, 71-58. It was 34-25 for the Wolverines at the intermission and the Tigers never threatened seriously.

Jim Brangan, steadiest man on the team, was good for 19 points as he continued to pace Princeton scoring on a season-long basis. Herm Belz outscored brother Carl, 15 to 11, but fouled out, while Joe Burns was held to three points and Artie Klein was blanked.

Brightest Princeton showing was at the foul mark, where the occasionally inaccurate Tigers hit for 18 of 21. They played Army for consolation honors in the Motor City Tournament Tuesday night, after this issue had gone to press.

BOWLING NOTES

Abbreviated Slate. As a result of the usual Christmas confusion, loop competition at Princeton Recreation Center was limited this past week. There was action in three circuits, however, with Maier & Baldwin (58 wins) holding its lead in the Industrial League, deadlocks dominating play in the Princeton "B" League and Town Topics laying claim to a first-half victory in the Princeton Women's Bowling League.

Behind M&B among the Industrialists were Nassau Del (53) and Gable Tavern and the Reformers (50 each), plus the four second-devision teams. Causing the congestion in the "B" loop were Cifelli Electric, Annex Grill and National Guard (16 apiece), plus six clubs with 10 wins each and three more with eight verdicts.

Rudy Lehnert topped the week's individual scorers, with a 224 in Industrial competition, while George Paris came close with a 223 in the "B" circuit. Bob Drummond's 210 was the only other mark over 200 in Lehnert's loop. Trailing Paris were Fred Lehnert and Rudy Ehart, with 215 each, Harold McWhorter, with 211, and Buddy Cavanaugh, with 200.

The final standings behind Town Topics (86 wins) in the PWBL: Cranbury Pharmacy (71), Tiger Bus (also 71), Cranbury Bank (70), the Mixers (also 70), Beity Wright Shop (68), Nassau Del (64), the Pinpushers (also 64), Dayton V (56), Emens & McVaugh (55), the Missettes (48) and Nassau Bootery (45). Helen Lowe's 186 was high score for the week, followed by Sara Rose, 180; Vicki De Cicco, 174; and Barbara Danser, 170.

PROF. YOUNG WILL SPEAK

To Address College Club. Professor Rodney I. Young will discuss the "Gordion Tombs" of Turkey at the next meeting of the Women's College Club. His address is scheduled for 8:30 p.m. Monday at the Present Day Club.

Dr. Young, professor of classical archaeology at the University of Pennsylvania and curator of the University Museum in Philadelphia, led the expedition which discovered the great tomb of the legendary King Gordius in June 1957. Inscriptions in the tomb date it before 700 B.C.

COMPTON TO GIVE LECTURE

On Anatolia College. Carl C. Compton, president emeritus of Anatolia College in Greece, will give an illustrated talk on the college's part in Greek life Sunday at 8 at the Princeton Inn. The institution is sponsored by Americans, and trains its students to take an active part in the economic, political and educational life of Greece.

Mr. Compton has returned to this country after 45 years in education and relief work in the Near East and Greece.

PAPER COLLECTION SET

By American Legion. The first scrap paper collection of the new year will take place this Sunday under the auspices of Princeton Post 76, American Legion. The committee will meet at the Borough garage on Harrison Street at 1. Nathaniel J. McKee is chairman.

Those wishing to contribute should tie bundles of papers and cardboard securely with twine, and leave them at the curb. Bundles may also be left at the American Legion Home, 55 Mercer Street, any time Saturday or before noon Sunday. To arrange for Sunday pickup outside the regular truck route, individuals should call WA 1-9894 between 1 and 11 Saturday.

TREE COLLECTION SET

In Lawrence Township. Christmas trees will be picked up this Sunday only in Lawrence Township. They will not be accepted on regular collection days.

Those wishing to take advantage of this service must have their trees on the curb by 8 a.m.

News Of The CHURCHES

NEW YEAR, NEW CHURCH—First Service in Calvary. The new Calvary Baptist church that opened its doors for the first time on Sunday is a modern structure of stone, cinder block and glass. Its interior is a color called sandalwood with greyed wood trim and a window wall that combine to make a light and airy sanctuary.

For Sunday's service, there was a temporary pulpit to hold the new red leather pulpit Bible given to the church by Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Cox and their family. The chancel, still a bare carpenters' workshop, will eventually be covered with a sandalwood carpet and the baptistry will have, as a backdrop, a red and gold dorsal curtain to set off the cross.

Folding wooden doors separate the church auditorium from the all-purpose rooms that adjoin it, and these rooms can be shut off from each other with fabric doors. There is a kitchen and a broad serving counter which separates it from a portion of the all-purpose room which contains a giant stone fireplace with raised hearth. This "room," and its fireplace have already been christened by the young people's group of the church.

Nine cinder-block rooms provide for church school classes and church-time nursery. These rooms, painted sandal wood like the sanctuary and the narthex, were painted by members of the Calvary congregation. About 25 men, women and young people did the job under the direction of Thurland T. Wilkinson, Sr., Kenneth L. Maxwell and Paul Harrison.

Approximately 135 persons attended Sunday's first service. Calvary, which will extend the Hand of Fellowship to 22 new members in the next two weeks, was founded in 1955 with 12 members.

Dedication services for the new church are planned for spring, probably after Easter.

Bulletin Notes

Philip H. Ashby will speak on "Christianity and the Resurgent Religions of the East" at the next meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service to be held Thursday, January 8, at 8 p.m. at the Methodist church.

Lawrence A. Boyer has been elected president of the Board of Deacons of the Second Presbyterian church. Charles A. Heiberger will serve as vice-president, Mrs. John S. Henderson as secretary and Arnold W. Strohkorb as treasurer. The Deacons have inaugurated a new transportation service for people who need a ride to and from church.

Trinity's Christmas Fair grossed $6,207.75, netted $5,244.37.

Calvary Baptist has a unique solution to the problem of a care-taker for nursery-age children during the worship hour. The church has obtained the services of a member of the Jewish Center congregation. She can attend her own worship services, which are held on Friday night and Saturday morning, and all mothers in the Calvary congregation can be present at their services on Sunday.

Obituaries

Charles Robinson, 82, of 71 Leigh Avenue, died December 25 in Princeton Hospital following a brief illness. A Princeton resident for the last 50 years, he was born in Chatham, Va., and had been employed by the Matthews Construction Co. and the Nassau Tavern.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Robinson; and several nieces and nephews. The Rev. Benjamin J. Anderson, pastor of the Witherspoon Presbyterian Church, officiated at the funeral, which took place at the Kimble Funeral Home. Interment was in Princeton Cemetery.

Richard Sweeney, 92, of 1 Margerum Court, died December 25 in Princeton Hospital. He was born in Markham, Va., and had lived here for the past 60 years. A retired Borough employe, he had also worked for Princeton Hospital.

His survivors include his wife, Mrs. Cora Nickens Sweeney; three daughters, Mrs. Della Williams, Mrs. Esther Oliver and Mrs. Gertrude Banks; seven grandchildren; and nine great-grandchildren. The service was held at the Kimble Funeral home, with the Rev. Dr. William T. Parker, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating. Interment was in Princeton Cemetery.

Mrs. Bertha G. Warren, 79, died December 23 at the home of her son, I. Stanley Warren, 52 Bayard Lane. She was the widow of LeRoy E. Warren.

In addition to her son, she is survived by four grandsons. The service was held Friday at the Kimble Funeral Home, with the Rev. George Mair of the First Presbyterian Church officiating. Interment was in Princeton Cemetery.

People With a Sense of Style Are Buying At Wonderful-to-Live-In

Princeton Manor

Princeton Manor is a small, fashionable nook of our town attracting fine families. And the location is a blessing. Happily close by are schools, shopping, transportation, and community activities.

The rolling land is sealed off in privacy by a lovely brook which encircles the property. All the land is controlled by the Princeton Manor Construction Co. That means you're sure of fine neighbors, architectural distinction, top-quality construction. All homes are custom built and hand crafted on the building site.

Buying at Princeton Manor is a sure capital gains hedge against inflation. Fresh and clean, a new custom built house with the finest materials and the latest wiring and heating equipment is a sound investment in low maintenance through the years.

We will build from your ideas, your architect's plans, or from over 200 designs in our files here at Princeton Manor — or on your land anywhere in Central New Jersey. (Consult our directory of building sites in the Princeton area which you may use as all or part of the down payment.) A few of our extra services are unusually favorable financing and free consultations with an interior decorator.

Come look over the wonderful residential opportunity awaiting you at Princeton Manor.
